Young creators are encouraged to take risks and to expose new ideas. In tanzwuchs|freiburg #3 different pieces with a maximum of 10 minutes are shown. They are connected through a curatorial line. At the end of the performance the audience will be invited to take part in an open talk with the artists. The performers will get a chance to perform, show and share their compositions. They also get general videoshoot and professional photos from the general rehearsal plus a promotion campaign through teasers, texts, web and social media. There is also a small budget for symbolic payment. This will be distributed equally among all artists participating in tanzwuchs #3.
